President Andrews, of the Nebraska University, has declined a $1,000 increase in his salary. People who have regarded President Andrews as a crank will take this as corroborating evidence.

And even France, the other Republic, is threatened with a strike which would involve between 70,000 and 100,000 men.

J. Pierpont Morgan lost his job of merging the beef combines, because he wanted $10,000,000 and Mr. Rockefeller got it.

When they have earthquakes in Guam they have them in job lots, about 180 in a day. But there isn't much earth to quake.

Cholera in Egypt gets away with the doctors, and its victims, too. Out of 36,600 cases up to October 1st there were 30,900 deaths.

A Wilkesbarre, Pa., man ran away from home because his wife insisted on trimming his hair, and he wasn't an imported ivory-pawer, either.

This country annually burns about 300,000,000 tons of coal produced by our mines, in addition to considerable imported, but it will fall short this year.

And here we have the U. S. post office department in utter defiance of hoodoo lore issuing a 13 cent postage stamp. Some men will stick at nothing.

President Roosevelt thinks Governor Stone, of Pennsylvania, was somewhat too previous in calling out the State Guard for service in the strike region. He did it without consulting Washington.

It is said that the Pennsylvania coal strikers are getting assistance from labor organizations and other friendly sources, the aggregate amounting monthly to hundreds of thousands of dollars.

FRANK DANIELS NEXT WEEK.

Announcement of His Appearance Here Received With Delight by Theatregoers—Record at the Casino.

The news that Frank Daniels and his big New York company is to appear at the Academy next Thursday night in a gorgeous production of the great comic-operatic hit, "Miss Simplicity" has been most enthusiastically received. Already there has been an extraordinary demand for seats, which indicates a big rush for tickets next Wednesday morning when the sale commences at the Academy's down-town box office at Plummer's. By special arrangement the best reserved seats in the theatre will only be $1.50, which is 50 cents less than Mr. Daniels charges in nearly all the larger cities. Then, too, it will only be in proportion to the gigantic size and nature of the attraction, which gives the only North Carolina engagement to Wilmington. Other prices will be $1.00 and 75 cents.

Everywhere that Frank Daniels goes in his new operatic comedy, "Miss Simplicity," he is greeted by ovations of hilarity and striking evidence of prosperity. From the dramatic columns of newspapers in Boston, New York and other cities that have seen him, it is learned that he has never had a musical offering of such pleasing quality and of such house-filling prospensities as this new piece by the author of "1492." At the Casino in New York, Daniels and "Miss Simplicity" created a perfect furore.

M'KETHAN IS DOWN.

Withdraws as Independent Candidate for Congress in the Sixth District.

THE COUNTY MOVEMENT.

Full Ticket Nominated in Opposition to the "Regulars" in Cumberland—Mr McKethan Evidently Displeased With Local Turn of Affairs.

[Special Star Telegram.]

GOLDSBORO, N. C., Oct. 10.—In a special given to the press from Dunn, Sept. 25th, I said: "E. R. McKethan, the Independent candidate for Congressional honors in the sixth district will, in the event he cannot get Slocomb to retire from the race, withdraw himself. This will be favorable to Patterson, the Democratic nominee. It was rumored at Fayetteville to-day that the Republican plan was to induce McKethan to continue in the race till the eve of the election in the interest of Slocomb, but McKethan, who is a personal friend of Gib Patterson, will not pose as the decoy duck of Slocomb or the Republican party"

It gives me great pleasure to say to-night that I am authorized by Mr. McKethan to state that he withdraws from the race in the interest of his personal friend, Gib Patterson, the regular Democratic nominee, for the very reason that he is Independent, and further, that he, McKethan, has nothing in common with the Independent movement in his, Cumberland county, but will support the regular Democratic county ticket for the self-same reason that, while he was Independent, that it by no means implied that he did not know and did not intend to stand for what was for the best interests of the people of his section and that as between Mr. Slocomb, with his record, and Mr. Patterson, the very fact that he was independent demanded that he cast his ballot for the latter. That when he recalled the "deserter bill" and Mr. Pritchard's action in 1885, when the "question of Confederate pensions" was before our State Legislature again his independence would demand that he vote for no man who would vote for the re-election of Senator Pritchard. That he would do this, no matter what he was classed politically, as he would rather be commandant of a small camp of Confederate Veterans and of the Spanish American war veterans, with honor, than to go to the United States Congress by action or votes tainted with dishonor.

It will be recalled that when Mr. McKethan, who is the very soul of honor, decided to become independent, he promptly sent to Gov. Aycock his resignation as a member of the State Legislature and that he has not participated in any convention whatsoever.

C. J. RIVENBARK.

The Fayetteville Observer gives the following account of the Cumberland County Independent Convention in that city on Thursday:

A number of "Independents" met to-day at noon at the Central Hotel, and after adopting an address to the people, setting forth the reasons for their action, nominated the following county ticket, which they style the "Good Government Democratic Ticket:"

For Sheriff, W. H. Marsh, Gray's Creek.

For Clerk of the Court, John C. Thompson, Cross Creek.

For Register of Deeds, J. H. Smith, Little River.

For Treasurer, McD. Geddie, Flea Hill.

For Surveyor, H. S. Everitt, Cedar Creek.

For Coroner, Dr. S. Highsmith, Hope Mills.

For County Commissioners, J. D. McNeill, Cross Creek; N. C. Thaggard, Cedar Creek; D. A. Blue, 71st.

Recommendations for additional Commissioners: Josiah Cook, Flea Hill; D. C. Culbreth, Carver's Creek.

Mr. W. H. Marsh, whom the "Independents" nominate for sheriff, is the Democratic nominee for sheriff.

There were twenty-five or thirty of the leaders of the new movement present. Mr. Josiah Cook, of Flea Hill, was chairman, and Mr. S. B. Talbert secretary of the convention.

It is said that the "Independents" have an understanding with the Republicans, and that they will work in harmony, but whether this is true or not we are unable to ascertain.

Mr. McD. Geddie is an ex-Populist sheriff, and Mr. Averitt is also a Populist.

WHO, WHAT, WHEN MINSTELS TO-DAY

Bargain Matinee This Afternoon and Performance at the Academy To-night.

At special matinee this afternoon ladies and little folks will get an opportunity of seeing a performance of the Who, What, When Minstrels at the Academy of Music. At this performance bargain prices, 25 and 50 cents, will prevail. The curtain will rise at 2:45 o'clock sharp. The merry minstrels will also hold down the boards at the Academy to-night.

The company is said to be a splendid one. Of it the Pittsburg (Pa.) Dispatch says:

"A new minstrel organization, styled the Who, What, When Minstrels, made a popular bid for public favor at the Duquesne theatre last night, and at once jumped into popular favor with the large audience present. The witticisms of the end men were up-to-date and refreshing, while there was not a single dull moment during the whole of a large and excellent olio. The vocalism of the different members of the first part was far above the average of minstrel companies."

— Rev. E. O. Watson, pastor of Bethel M. E. Church, Charleston, S. C., has accepted an invitation to deliver an address at the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday, November 2d.

PYTHIAN CARNIVAL WORK.

Committee Meetings Last Night and Others This Evening--Chance to See Modern Road Building—Other Notes.

Pythian Carnival Headquarters was alive with enthusiastic committee members last night, all working to the end that the forthcoming Fall Festival shall be the biggest enterprise of its kind ever essayed by the "staid old city" of Wilmington.

There were meetings at 8:30 o'clock of the Music Committee, Mr. E. H. Munson chairman, and the Committee on Parade, ex-Mayor John J. Fowler chairman. The Music Committee will make a detailed report to the Executive Committee later. The employment of two brass bands to supplement two coming with the carnival organization, is under contemplation and the four altogether will make the welkin ring with martial airs. The Parade Committee will make its report through the press later. It is at work on a magnificent street pageant and unless all signs fail, this will be a drawing card for the fair week.

Chairman H. E. Bonitz calls a meeting of the Soliciting Committee at Headquarters at 8:30 o'clock to-night. The committee is composed of Messrs. Bonitz, L. B. Rogers, R. C. Collins, J. J. Hopkins, W. P. Oldham, W. H. Yopp, Walker Taylor and Sam Bear, Jr. About $800 is already subscribed, but an additional $500 is wanted for the four bands that are to be here for the entire week.

Chairman B. O. Stone also calls a meeting of the Advertising Committee for the same hour. The committee is composed of Messrs. Stone, T. W. Clawson, Trabue Barksdale, W. A. Caldwell, E. V. Richards, A. S. Holden, W. P. Monroe, T. D. Love, J. M. Walker, E. L. Hart, W. L. Harlow, W. F. Corbett, S. V. Bunting, H. W. Collins, E. Borden and J. E. Thompson.

The committee desire to return especial thanks to the following for supplies for Headquarters: G. D. Phares, desk and chairs; Consolidated Railways, Light and Power Co., lights; S. & B. Solomon, carpet; Telephone companies, telephone service. The number of the Bell 'phone is 700.

The country store committee also acknowledges donations as follows: Southern Cotton Oil Co., through Mr. Hal Dick, one case Palmatina and one case Snow Drift lard; Strouse Bros., through Fishblate Clothing Co., one suit fine clothes.

Mr. J. H. Mallard and Mr. L. C. Herbert, travelling men who came in yesterday, say the country is enthusiastic over Wilmington's fair and will send in large delegations. Mr. Herbert is an enterprising salesman for the D. L. Gore Co.

The chairman of the Advertising Committee has issued the following circular:

"New Hanover has the finest equipment for modern road building in the South. An opportunity for all people interested in good roads to see this outfit during the Knights of Pythias Carnival and Merchants' Fall Festival, is offered.

"Mr. D. McEachern, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, has signified his willingness to show all interested in modern road building this fine equipment during the Knights of Pythias Carnival and Merchants' Fall Festival.

"There will be one fare round trip from all the surrounding country and it will be a nice trip for all County Commissioners and road over-seers to come to Wilmington to take in the Carnival, and also to investigate the machinery used for modern road building, and see what magnificent and substantial roads are being built for a small cost under the judicious management of New Havover's County Commissioners.

"Chairman McEachern says it will be a pleasure to explain to any one and show them this modern outfit should they pay a visit during Carnival week."

The Tuscarora May Come.

The U. S. revenue cutter Tuscarora, recently built and launched at Triggs' shipyard, Richmond, and now at Baltimore to have her machinery installed, is said to be slated by the government for this port to succeed the Algonquin. It is expected that she will arrive here about Dec. 1st. It is stated unofficially that the Algonquin will be sent back to Wilmington as soon as the cutter Mohawk, which will be completed next Spring, can take her place at Porto Rico. The Tuscarora is slightly smaller than the Algonquin but she is said to be a handsome ship. Her commander has not yet been named. At the present time First Lieutenant Reinburg and Chief Engineer Owen are the only officers attached to her.

JURY OUT ALL NIGHT.

Issues in Penny Damage Suit Now With "Twelve Men, Good and True."

VERDICT NOT YET REACHED.

Superior Court Took a Recess Until Monday--Several Matters Continued and Others Will Be Heard Next Week—The Arguments.

The jury to determine the issues in the Penny damage suit in the Superior Court took the case at 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

This morning at 5:30 o'clock, after seventeen hours deliberation, they are no nearer a verdict, so far as the public is informed, than they were when they first retired.

An agreement is regarded as practically impossible and a juror will likely be withdrawn and a mistrial ordered this morning.

Upon the conclusion of the case yesterday, Judge Bryan announced that he desired to go home and would hear no further causes this week. A recess was accordingly taken until 10 A. M. Monday. It was agreed by the attorneys interested that the Clerk should take the verdict of the jury in the Penny case in the event an agreement is reached.

Upon the convening of the court yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock, Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy concluded a very brilliant effort for the defendant in the damage suit. He was followed by Marsden Bellamy, Esq., for the plaintiff, also in an able and convincing argument. Then followed Judge Bryan's charge to the jury, which was about half an hour in length. Opinions differ as to which side His Honor's construction of the law and facts favored. It was, however, fair and impartial.

The jury remained in animated discussion of the issues until 1:30 P. M., when in charge of Deputy W. H. Cox they took dinner at the Dixie Cafe. At 7 o'clock last night they appeared to be as wide apart as ever, and were given supper at the cafe. Last night the early hours were spent in still further discussion of the issues, but later most of the number went to sleep on the questions. The jury was especially fortunate in having one of its number a furniture man. Early in the evening Mr. E. H. Sneed had a dozen cots brought up from his store on Market street and placed in the main court room at the disposal of his fellow jurors. It is safe to say that no jury ever fared better so far as accommodations are concerned.

The issues were submitted to the jury as follows: I. W. Solomon, John Dyer, W. H. M. Koch, E. H. Sneed, Charles D. Foard, Ike K. Pinner, W. E. Koonce, Richard J. Jones, F. A. Montgomery, Geo. Harriss, Walter G. McRae and C. D. Gilbert.

Mr. Penny sues the railroad for $20,000 damages and the issues are as follows:

Was the plaintiff injured by the negligence of the defendant?

Did the plaintiff by his own negligence contribute to his injury?

What damage, if any, has plaintiff sustained?

The following cases were continued yesterday morning: Hicks vs. Blair; Hicks vs. Healy; Monk vs. City of Wilmington.

In Wright vs. Bonham, the plaintiff took a non suit.

It was agreed that the first case to be taken up Monday will be that of Meta H. Hullen vs. City of Wilmington. It was set for yesterday but had to go over as Judge Bryan desired to leave for home. The second case Monday will likely be that of S. P. Cowan Livery Co. vs. City of Wilmington in which the plaintiff seeks to enforce payment for the police patrol wagon. So far as the Board of Aldermen is concerned, it simply desires to confess judgment but the other co-ordinate branch of the city government desires to resist payment upon the ground that the purchase was not made through the ordinary channels. The latter branch is the Board of Audit and Finance, which has employed ex-Judge E. K. Bryan to defend its position City Attorney Bellamy will defend the suit in behalf of both boards.

The case of Hullen vs. City is for $1,500 damages by reason of street excavations which injured plaintiff's property at southeast corner of Front and Brunswick streets. Plaintiff also asks $300 rent and interest. The suit was instituted in April, 1897. Messrs. Herbert McClammy and Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy represent the plaintiff and the defendant's case will be looked after by City Attorney Bellamy and ex-Judge E. K. Bryan.

Yesterday the case was called and the continuance made as noted above. The following jurors were in the box: J. G. King, H. B. Taylor, Joe Kirkham, G. Henry Haar, B. B. Pridgen, George Irving, B. N. Bowden, Carl B. Rehder, Louis Bissenger, J. R. Boyd and L. T. Morris. These were ordered to return Monday for duty for the day. No talesmen were ordered summoned.

Yom Kippur Being Observed.

Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement, the most sacred of Jewish festivals, began with the going-down of the sun yesterday and will continue until 6 o'clock this evening. The stores and other places of business of Hebrew merchants are closed in observance of the day and religious services were conducted at the Temple of Israel last night by Dr. S. Mendelsohn, the rabbi. The significance of the holiday has already been published in these columns.

THE POLITICS OF BRUNSWICK.

Result of the "Conservative Democratic Convention" at Lockwood's Folly on Thursday—Ticket Nominated.

[Special Star Telegram.]

SOUTHPORT, N. C., Oct. 10.—The "Conservative Democratic Convention" at Lockwood's Folly yesterday made the following nominations:

State Senate—Iredell Meares.
House—W. H. Phillips.
Sheriff—James Holmes.
Register of Deeds—J. B. Ruark.
Treasurer—David Ward.
Clerk of Court—John B. Simmons.

The attendance was small. One report says there were but half a dozen persons present.

Mr. Meares, the nominee for the State Senate, received the nomination for the same office at the "Citizens' Convention" last week and the same is true as to Mr. David Ward for Treasurer. Mr. Phillips, the "Conservatives'" nominee for the House is also the Democratic nominee for the same office. Mr. James Holmes was before the Democratic Convention for Sheriff but was defeated and now receives the nomination from the "Conservatives." Mr. J. B. Ruark was also defeated in the Democratic Convention for Register of Deeds, but now receives the nomination from the "Conservatives." It is not known whether any of the nominees of the "Conservatives" will accept. Mr. Meares said last night he had received no official notification of his nomination.

THE MARKETS AND SHIPPING.

Spirits and Crude Turpentine Quotations on a Rampage--Clearance of Vessels. The Cotton Situation.

Spirits turpentine yesterday reached the highest point in price since the Fall and Winter of 1900-1901, when quotations soared up to 54 cents, breaking all previous records since the war. Yesterday's market was 51 cents, a quarter higher than Savannah, the leading naval store centre of the world. Crude turpentine went up in proportion, local quotations having been $1.75@$2.80 for hard and dip, respectively.

Cotton receipts continue heavy daily, but are now on the average not much ahead of the corresponding days last year. The week's receipts up to and including yesterday were 34,436 bales, against 28,288 bales same week last year. The receipts since Sept. 1st, this year, have been 121,138 bales, or nearly half what they were during the entire year of 1901-1902. Last year's receipts to date were only 48,265 bales. The British steamer Baron Eldon cleared yesterday for Bremen with a cargo of 12,931 bales, the heaviest of the season.

The receipts of naval stores since April 1st show a slight increase over last year in spirits and crude but there is a small falling of in rosin and tar. The week's receipts ended yesterday were: Spirits, 625; rosin 1,418; tar, 1,325; crude, 697. Last year: Spirits, 458; rosin, 1,326; tar, 1,658, crude, 517.

The British Steamer Plympton, Capt. Moon, cleared yesterday afternoon, light, for New Orleans after discharging cargo of fertilizer material at the Navassa Guano Co. The vessel was cleared by Messrs. Heide & Co.

DIAVOLO'S FAMOUS LOOP-THE-LOOP.

Greatest Individual Circus Act in the World With Forepaugh & Sells.

The great act of Diavolo in "looping-the-loop" on a bicycle is a practical demonstration of the fact that the man that works the greatest number of hours doesn't always earn the most money. Diavolo actually works 12 seconds at each performance. For these 12 seconds work, he receives $166.66-2-3, or $1,000 a week. The law of supply and demand is directly and absolutely responsible for the price paid for the act. It is a fact that Diavolo is the only man in the world who has ever successfully accomplished this remarkable feat. Others have tried it—four in number to date—and all four have failed at the first attempt. Every trial has resulted in serious or fatal injury. The last victim made the attempt on June 14, 1902, at Sheepshead Bay, N. Y., the result being two broken ribs, a broken collar bone and the loss of the sight of his left eye. The management of the Forepaugh-Sells Shows has endeavored in every way to find another man who could successfully perform the act, so that in case of injury to Diavolo they would have a substitute to fall back on. The owners of the show have even gone to the extent of having a duplicate "loop" built at Sheepshead Bay, where applicants are given every opportunity to prove their ability to successfully circle the concentric coil. As yet, Diavolo has no understudy, much less an imitator.

— Mr. J. W. Reilly, chairman for North Carolina of the Membership Committee of the American Gas Light Association, leaves to-day to attend the annual meeting of that organization in New York, 15th to 19th, inclusive. THE STRIKE PROBLEM.

Strikes seem to be contagious these days, which is somewhat remarkable in view of the floods of declamation on the great prosperity of the country. Coal strikes and street car strikes seem to be the order just now, for we have the Pennsylvania strike, and an Alabama strike, the latter for the seemingly unreasonable cause that some negro miners down there refused to pay assessments to help the Pennsylvania strikers, and the companies for which they worked refused to withhold the amount of the assessment from their pay, and therefore the strike was ordered. The Union, which, as far as the public knows, had no other cause of complaint, embraces about 3,000 men.

There is a street car strike in New Orleans and similar strikes in several New York towns. What their grievances are we do not know, but they are resorting to violence to prevent the cars from running.

The Pennsylvania strike, which is said to have cost already $183,000,000 (not counting what it has cost the public) is now in its sixth month, with no disposition on the part of the mine operators to make concessions and no disposition on the part of the strikers to yield unless concessions are made. They are now, since the absolute refusal of the mine operators, after an earnest appeal by President Roosevelt to come to some agreement, more determined than ever and are receiving substantial encouragement from other miners' organizations and from individual sympathizers, who have come to look upon it as a decisive test between organized capital and organized labor, either one of which must succumb.

If this were simply a measure of strength between capital and labor, between employer and employed, people might sympathize with one or the other, and the public might watch the contest and quietly wait its ending, but in all such clashes it is the public that suffers and is most vitally interested. A street car strike, even when not attended with violence and riotousness, means a stop to the usual means of travel through the city for the masses of the people, and that means not only personal inconvenience, and discomfort, but it means interruption of business and much loss of time and money to business men and people employed by them.

A coal strike prolonged and of large proportions, even when not attended by violence, lawlessness and rioting, a shortage in fuel supplies, if not an actual fuel famine now confronting the people of the North Atlantic States, and that means not only higher priced fuel, but much personal discomfort and severe suffering, with damage to industries, the money cost of which cannot be figured out.

Aside from the employer and the workman, the former of whom is interested in the loss of profits and dividends, and the latter in wages and in treatment, some way should be found to prevent strikes in the interest of the masses of the people who suffer from them more than the employers or the workmen do. It is absurd and a reflection on our intelligence and our state craft that no way has yet been devised to do that and that the problem has never been approached with the seriousness that its importance demands.

Capital may organize, labor may organize. It is well for both that they should organize; they have the right to organize for more effective work and for mutual protection, but neither should be allowed to cuff the other, nor to go to shooting at each other when it imperils the life of innocent bystanders. Capital has or should have the right to work its property in its own way, and to employ whom it pleases to work it, but it has no right to oppress its employes who may be in its power or to exact anything unfair or unreasonable from them. It should deal with them honestly, squarely, humanely and pay them living wages. It should not expect to make all the profit, get all the meat and throw its workmen the bones.

Workmen have a right to cease working when they are not treated fairly, a right, however, which they cannot always exercise, because their necessities often compel them to continue at work, even on very onerous conditions, but whether they work or not, they have no right to put hindrance in the way of the man who wants to work, whose necessities may compel him to work to earn the wherewith to live and to provide for his family, if he has one.

When the employer takes advantage of a man's necessities to extort labor from him without just compensation he plays the part of an unfeeling oppressor and when the workman by violence or intimidation prevents the man whose neccessities compel him to work from working he does the same thing and neither should be allowed to do it.

This problem has been solved in other countries. Australia, which has arbitration laws has revolved it and so has New Zeland, which with her admirble system stands as an exemplar for other countries. The conditions in other countries and in this may be different, but there should be genius and ability enough in this country to at least devise some way to avert these industrial conflicts and ward off the calamities that follow in their wake.

THEY WANT MORE TROOPS.

A Wilkesbarre, Pa., dispatch, published yesterday, says it was reported that the mine magnates would ask the Governor of Pennsylvania for more troops on the ground that the troops which have been ordered into the anthracite district are not sufficient to completely patrol it. That's cool.

The State Guard numbers something over 11,000 men when full. It is said the number for service in the anthracite region will be 9,000 men, fully armed and equipped for war. And these 9,000 are not, in the estimation of the coal magnates, sufficient to give them the protection which they need to mine coal. The presumption is that they don't think those State troops are hankering for that kind of work and that they would find federal soldiers, brought from some other sections of the country, more serviceable and with fewer compunctions against shooting at the strikers and their sympathizers, if ordered to shoot, as shooting is their business, and they obey orders without asking questions or having any opinions, as to the justice or injustice, or the necessity or the absence of necessity in the shooting.

As far as the public knows there has been no rioting since the State Guard was ordered into the mining region, and so far as known the mine operators have not since made any additional efforts to mine coal, or that it must be simply a matter of opinion with them that the 9,000 State troops now there are not sufficient to give them all the protection they need to work the mines and turn out the coal, for which there is now such an urgent demand. Until they do that they cannot consistently ask for more troops and if they don't do that they ought to be required to turn the mines over to receivers who will.

Louisville, Ky., was honored a few days ago with a visit by a man who has 365 suits of wearing apparel, (and he isn't in the clothing business although he comes pretty near it.) He changes his clothes every hour and spends four hours a day in doing it. He scorns being called a dude, and says he has never smoked a cigarette, worn a monocule, or played golf, and his name it is Jones.

Mr. Morgan didn't buy those 50,000 tons of Welsh coal to give away to the poor of New York, but to sell to them at cost, which will be about one-third of the cost of Pennsylvania coal at the rate it is now selling in that city. Fifty thousand tons would make a pretty large pile of coal, but it wouldn't supply New York for one day, if generally distributed. It takes about 70,000 tons to do that.

Mark Hanna has challenged Tom Johnson to debate, but prescribes a condition that no reference be made to monopolies. Mark don't want to have the monopolies chucked at him. They are all getting tender-footed on the monopoly business.

GUARDING AGAINST COAL RIOTS

The municipal authorities in New York city are taking measures to prevent apprehended rioting that may result from the scarcity of fuel. With the present scarcity of coal or other fuel in that city, rioting will be the inevitable result unless extraordinary measures be taken in time to prevent it, and the same may be said of all the large cities in the North Atlantic States which are dependent upon coal for fuel.

Thus far the weather has not been cold enough to cause much suffering and the people have borne patiently and even good naturedly the coal shortage, with its attendant high prices, hoping that work might soon be resumed in the mines and the worst be over, but let a cold snap come and it would take a regiment of police with machine guns to keep the clamoring people out of the yards that happened to have coal enough to tempt them.

The timely taking of precautions against such emergencies may have some effect in preventing raids on the coal yards, but it will not entirely prevent them, should the weather become severe enough to cause suffering.

The fact that the public, with very little division of sentiment, holds the mine operators and the managers of the coal carrying roads responsible for the coal shortage, would make the public condone raids on coal yards, and even the law itself would look leniently upon those who participated in them, on the maxim that "necessity knows no law." People in this country who are willing to pay a reasonable price for fuel are not going to suffer and freeze for want of it, without making desperate efforts to get it if it is in sight.

CURRENT COMMENT

—— With a street car strike in New Orleans and rioting there, coal miners' strikes in Alabama and Pennsylvania with rioting and disorder there, labor seems to be in a Mont Pelee condition in this country.—Augusta Chronicle, Dem.

—— The colored bishops, who called on the President got a crumb of comfort in that the President assured them that he did not approve of the Southern Republicans squeezing them out of politics; but the President's disapproval will not help the bishops and their followers much. The squeezing process goes right along. — Richmond Times, Dem.

—— Notwithstanding the great activity in American iron and steel manufacturing establishments the imports of iron and steel have doubled in the past year while exports of these commodities have fallen off about $5,000,000 and are still falling. Practically every class of iron and steel imports shows an increase during 1902 as compared with 1901.—SavannahNews, Dem.

—— Senator Hanna permits no opportunity to pass without making his tariff views known. At Wheeling, W. Va., the other day he advised his audience to "keep letting well enough alone." The President on the other hand, as is well known, refuses to believe that it is sacrilege to lay hands upon the tariff or that any particular schedule of the Dingley law—say the iron and steel schedule—should or ought forever remain inviolate. Senator Hanna's advice is an excellent one to follow—by some people. The President's attitude, nevertheless, is sound, and has the additional advantage, moreover, which Senator Hanna has not, of awakening a sympathetic echo in the breasts of countless millions of consumers.—Washington Times, Rep.

— Tarboro Southerner: From all reports the colored people throughout the county are registering slowly. Up till this morning Mr. Beatty reports one as having registered to township No. 1, precinct 2. Mr Dawson reports three in precinct township.

— Salisbury Sun: Mr. W. D. Graham, of Miranda, was in Salisbury to-day. Mr. Graham, who is registrar for Mt. Ulla township, says the voters are registering slowly in his township. So far more voters have registered in the six Salisbury precincts than in all the country precincts combined.

— Weldon News: Mr. W. H. Hux, a well known farmer in Faucett's township, brought to this office last Friday some of the largest and finest tomatoes we have ever seen grown in Halifax county. They are of the variety known as the tree tomato, and the plants grow all the way from five to seven feet high. Mr. Hux says the plants he raised were seven feet in height and that two plants furnished tomatoes for his entire family.

— Durham Sun: Sheriff S. A. Fleming, of Granville county, was here Wednesday morning on his way to Oxford with Will Garner, a colored prisoner. Garner is charged with having killed Walter Gregory in Granville in the month of January, 1901. He made his escape after committing the murder and has been a fugitive from justice until arrested at Wilson, where he was turned over to Sheriff Fleming.

— Fayetteville Observer: Mr. A. D. Fann, who carries the mail between here and Manly, N. C., gives an interesting account of some corn which he saw on his last trip. The corn was raised by Mr. Cyrus Johnson, who lives near Manly. Mr. Fann saw one stalk of this corn measured. He says it was fifteen feet long and ten feet to the first ear, and it had three well developed ears of corn. He measured two blades which were four feet and six inches long. The stalk measured eight and one-half inches around at the second joint from where it was cut off above the ground. Mr. Johnson has about one acre that would average this well.

— Concord Tribune: Thursday afternoon a negro named Conner applied to Registrar McKinne to register. After testing the negro Mr. McKinne refused to register him. After this the negro became ugly and mouthy. After being ordered out of the room Conner refused to go and Mr. McKinne gathered a chair, when the negro stepped outside the room and stopped at the stable door. Here he picked up a brick and threw it, striking Mr. McKinne in the head and knocking him unconscious. The negro made a desperate effort to escape, but was caught and placed in jail. Mr. McKinne soon recovered and was not seriously hurt.

— Nashville Graphic: News reached this place Monday that Mr. Henry Whitley, living in Ferrell's township, had committed suicide. Mr. Whitley and his wife had parted about ten days prior to his rash act, he having driven her from his home while he was on a protracted spree and making home-life miserable for his wife and children. Monday morning he sent his youngest son for Mrs. Whitley to return. Mr. Whitley told his son where he would find what money he had, stating also that he was liable to die any moment. While young Whitley was a short distance away he heard the report of a gun from within the house. He proceeded at once to the bedroom, where he found his father lying across the bed in a dying condition, while at his side lay his double-barrel shotgun.

— Raleigh News and Observer: Henry Campbell prominent and well to do farmer of Rutherfordton, shot himself through the heart Thursday. The cause is said to have been family trouble. Several times during the past week Campbell has tried to end his life by drowning in a well, but each effort was frustrated by friends. He informed his wife that he was going to blow out his brains and asked her to accompany him to the barn to see it well done. She declined and he went alone and killed himself. He was 62 years old and leaves a wife and two children. —— Cora Morehead, a negro woman, is reported as having fallen into a well near Leaksville, Rockingham county, though some suspect murder and arrests have been made. She was in a row at a quilting party at a friend's house and three men followed her to the woods when she ran from the house. She was seen no more alive but the next morning her dead body, with a gash on the head, was found in an upright position in the well.

She says Electric Bitters are just splendid for female troubles; that they are a grand tonic and invigorator for weak, run down women. No other medicine can take its place in our family." Try them. BOXED APPLES.

The New Method of Marketing—Items From One of Its Advocates.

The boxing of apples for market finds numerous advocates nowadays. Following are some items gleaned from a lengthy communication on the subject to Rural New Yorker by a successful apple shipper. He has packed apples as illustrated. The dimensions of the box are 11½ by 12 by 22, what is called the California bushel box. In packing he graded to three sizes and packed the sizes to fit the box, tiering the different sizes to fit the boxes. As they were red apples he used white paper and put it only in the bottom of the box, letting it come about half way up on the sides of the box. After the box was filled the bottom was nailed on, the box turned over and marked for the best apples XXX, those next smaller XX, and the smallest ones X. In shipping three boxes were counted to the barrel, and in figuring the price per barrel three bushels were counted per barrel.

In boxing white apples this shipper would use some bright colored paper, as a red, blue or green. It may be well in boxing a red apple to use a clear white or bright yellow.

Many times people living in the crowded city have not the room for a barrel of apples, but they could put a box in the corner or some out of the way place, or if they could not afford to buy a whole barrel they could buy a box, and there are many people thus situated financially, enough of them to consume many hundreds of barrels in a season, and thus almost open up a new market for us. It is more work, because they have to be graded carefully in order to pack nicely, but not as much trouble as one would suppose. After you get used to it it can be done quite rapidly. The cost of the box is about the same as a barrel.

COTTON MARKETS

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The cotton market opened steady with prices one point higher to two lower and then followed a narrow rut for a time in the absence of active trading by either side or special new feature. As an offset to the heaviness in the Liverpool market the liberal port receipts and the generally favorable weather chart were bullish spot market reports from the South, reports that a storm of considerable severity was working toward the central belt coast from the Gulf, and talk of a colder snap from the western belt to-night. Late in the morning the government forecast promised not only cold but wet weather as well for the western belt. Shorts turned for cover, with the result that January worked up to 8.78 and other options in accordance. The commission houses became eager buyers again and the South bought the winter months quite freely. The late dispatches from spot markets in the central belt stated that exporters were taking everything offered at former prices, with holders less anxious to sell except at an advance. Total export clearances for the day were nearly as large as total port receipts. The market later eased off on near months under realizing, with the close quiet and net two points lower to four points higher. Total sales were estimated at 150,000 bales.

IN THE DAIRY

In speaking of profits in dairying a writer in Practical Farmer says:

A fairly good dairy cow will produce 5,000 pounds of milk per year, which, sold at 3 cents per pound, the prevailing price, makes $150 per year. From a given ration she will consume—and we will charge the cow for full ration for 365 days—2 1-3 tons of cowpea hay, valued at $28; five tons of ensilage, at $10; two tons of corn stover, valued at $10, and one-third ton cottonseed meal, valued at $8, a grand total of $56 for cost of food for one cow that produces $150 worth of milk. Besides this you have cowpea hay, which you have sold for $12 per ton, corn ensilage at $2 and corn stover at $5 a ton in form of milk. And then the manure! All of it but $5.60 returned to your soil. If dairying does not pay now, it is because the machines are worthless—that is, the cow which takes the raw material (as corn stover, cowpea hay, etc.) to make into finished products, as milk and butter, is worthless. Use a good bull, then, to breed up to dairy stock, and as soon as this is done dairy stock will improve and dairying will become the most profitable industry in the middle south, more profitable than cotton growing or cotton manufacturing.

months 5,611 pounds of milk, 5.36 per cent of butter fat or 301.13 pounds of fat, 354.26 pounds of churned butter. She was bred by Ezra Michener, Bucks county, Pa., and sold for $1,000 to Albert C. Loring of Minnesota.

Her First Calf.

There should be no such thing as "breaking in a heifer" when she has her first calf. She should be so carefully handled that there will be no necessity for doing the thing after that should be done before calving. If this has not been done before, begin some weeks before calving to familiarize the heifer with the milker. Stroke her, caress her, handle the udder, doing everything so carefully that any advance in the process will be unnoticed by the animal. Within a few days the udder can be handled at will, and the heifer will soon come to enjoy and even expect such caresses. If this work is carefully and kindly done, there will be no trouble when milking time comes.

GERMAN ARMY OFFICERS.

The Abject Deference Shown Them by Civilians Is Amazing.

The respect and deference shown to the German army officer on duty and off duty by his countrymen are wonderful to see, according to a London writer. "Civilians, even compatriots of distinction, on entering the dining room bow to him with formal humility. He acknowledges the obeisances only with a rigid glare of haughty indifference, though he is politely conscious of the coming and going of ladies. The German civilian does not appear to be surprised at or to resent being contemptuously ignored by him, but recognizes him and looks up to him as a superior member of a superior race and continues to make his obeisances, however loftily they are ignored.

"But, while the officer is unable to see the civilian at whom he is looking point blank, he never misses observing the entrance and acknowledging the salute of another of his own race. He rises from his seat and stands stiff and erect while the newcomer advances and exchanges formal bows and greetings, and as he recovers the erect position from the bow he brings his heels together with a sharp parade click and waits until his superior has taken a seat before he resumes his own."

There were tremendous ceremonies in eating and drinking, too, especially in drinking. "Each table group lifted their glasses invariably together, as if at the word of command, taking their time apparently from the senior present. Having seized their glasses together and raised them together and simultaneously drunk, they would simultaneously finish and then, holding their glasses before them, would with great ceremony bow to one another before replacing them on the table. It did not matter whether they were drinking beer or claret or the German champagne, which seems to be the especially smart thing to take, there was the same ceremony. When a senior officer went out of the room, all the juniors present rose to stiff attention and bowed as he passed. When a junior rose, he made the round of the table on his way to the door and bowed separately, with a spur jingling heel click every time to every other officer."

tachment detached from the plow, and if it is to be used for a harrow or other implement where there is no furrow a larger wheel is substituted for the small wheel, which would make it run in a leaning position. This wheel is attached by a set screw and can be removed easily, and the shaft is long enough so the large wheel may be put on the extreme end and thus make it less liable to tip over.

Improvement of Soils.

Any scheme of rotation should have the growing of at least one leguminous crop in its plan. By this means large gains of nitrogen may be made from the air. Potash and phosphoric acid, unless already in the soil, must be supplied by commercial fertilizers. In the case of very poor soil it is not advisable to remove the crops unless the manure is returned until a fair state of fertility has been reached. Stock raising, dairying and poultry raising are profitable lines of agriculture to carry on in a scheme for improving the fertility of poor soils.

MISS ELEANOR GRAY,

President of the Woman's Art Association of

ST. AUGUSTINE, FLORIDA.

43 King Street,
ST. AUGUSTINE, Fl 5, 1902.

I have not enjoyed 'th for the past five years, an not for Wine of Cardui I wo l be a sufferer today. I was ed with profuse menstruation, was very irregular and often mens d every three weeks instead of at the proper periods. Each time ould have severe cramps and bearing down pains with backache u...tting me for office work, and compelling me to lie down for several hours each day and sometimes the entire day. I used several remedies and spent hundreds of dollars trying to get relief, but all of no avail. Fortunately, one of your Ladies' Birthday Almanacs came into my hands and I became much interested, naturally hoping that it would cure me as it had cured others. I took my first dose that night and kept up the treatment religiously. My vitality, which had been well nigh spent by the heavy loss of blood, was gradually restored. I noticed a marked absence of pain at the next period, also a more natural flow. I kept up the treatment for four months and found to my joy that I was entirely well, and the functions of nature were performed naturally and easily. Wine of Cardui is certainly a grand medicine and gladly do I give it entire credit for my wonderful restoration to health.

Eleanor Gray

MISS GRAY took Wine of Cardui and stuck to it. That is what she means when she says she "kept up the treatment religiously". She is rid of her terrible suffering because she took this mild and simple remedy, because she did not put off the treatment. She did not take it a day or a week and then stop. She took Wine of Cardui and gave its curative qualities time to build up her weak parts, regulate her functions and cure the terrible pains in her back. And Wine of Cardui so used will never fail to benefit any case of female trouble however serious it may be. Wine of Cardui cannot restore dead organs, but it does cure menstrual troubles, which sap the body of its strength and result in back-breaking, bearing-down pains. Wine of Cardui is a simple vegetable remedy that has cured hundreds of thousands of women suffering from leucorrhoea, bearing-down pains and all the common menstrual disorders when they have taken it according to the directions on the bottle. If you will secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist and take a few doses of it every day you will have the same relief Miss Gray enjoys. Never let anyone sell you a substitute for Wine of Cardui.

The decorations of our store throughout were pronounced by many to be very fine—everything was harmonious.

Our dress goods department had on display the grandest line of dress goods that we have been able to show and even though the weather has been very warm our sales have been unusually good.

In our millinery department our sales even surprised us. Our milliners took orders for hundreds of pretty hats which we have been working hard to try and get them ready on time. Our stock of men and boys' clothing has had their full share of patronage and we are claiming to have the best stock of clothing in the city. We have hundreds of boys' suits that run in price from $1 to $4 that I know are new and nobby and strictly up-to-date; in men's suits, from $5 to $12.50, we defy competition; we claim to have the strongest line sold in North Carolina.

If you are thinking of buying a suit for yourself or for your boys and saving money is any object, it will pay you to give us a look.

Men's strictly all-wool cheviot suits, worth $7.50, can be found in our store for $5.

For $7.50 and $10 you can get the very best suit. Every thing in this line is strictly all new goods.

In ladies' cloaks and furs and shirt waists we have an elegant line and assortment in all styles; nice cloaks from $2.50 to $12.50; fur collarettes from 75c to $9 each; shirt waists, beautifully made, at 50c; nice silk waists at $2.98; ladies' ready-made skirts, we have them at all prices, $1 to $2.50; beautiful walking skirts $2.50 and up; ladies' underskirts, nicely made and full size, black, looks like silk, from 75c, $1 and $1.50; ladies' muslin underwear in all prices; corset covers at 10c, better at 15c, 20 and 25c; full size gown, with ruffle and embroidery, at 48c; better at 75c, $1 and $1.25; waist chemisettes, beautifully made and trimmed, at $1.25; white skirts 50c, 75c and $1; ladies' strapped bust corsets at 23c each; an elegant corset at 39c each; beautiful girdles at 50c each; fascinators, circular shawls, 23c to $2.50.

For Oil Stove—we have just recured the agency for the best—we sell the Perfection smokeless, odorless oil heaters, maximum heat at minimum cost, safe and reliable, at $5 and $5.50.

We also sell the Alladin Lamp, which we claim to be the best sold in the city, at $1.50 each. In our crockery department we have very much increased. We sell fine gold band China cups, saucers and plates for $2.25 per set of 18 pieces.

Best large bowls and pitchers at 90c per set. Ten piece toilet bed room set handsomely decorated, for $2.50. Full size perfect cups and saucers, six in set, for 45c per set.

Best goblets at 30c per set; nice tumblers at 19c per set; meat platters 10c and up.

Candy—we have added to our stock a full assortment of fine candies, good candy as low as 8c per pound; pure cream chocolates at 15c per pound.

Fine almond and walnut chocolates at 25c. Everything in this line is kept fresh by getting in a new supply each week.

We wish to thank the ladies for their large attendance at our opening, and would like to say that we are never undersold by any one.

Our millinery department is at your service, at prices our competitors can't touch. Miss Brown with her able force of assistants will trim your hats free when you buy hat and material from us.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION.

Bradstreets' Report—Aside from the Fuel Scarcity the Outlook in Trade Circles is Encouraging.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Bradstreets to-morrow will say:

Cooler weather has brought the coal supply question home to millions of people and discussion of this has dwarfed all other matters in the public eye. There is a possibility, however, that the tendency to exaggeration may be carried to extremes and that a matter bad enough at best may be made worse by injudicious talk. Special investigations by Bradstreets' correspondents at fifty cities and industrial centers, east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio and Potomac rivers, seem to indicate that aside from the damage to general business caused in the coal regions themselves by the idleness of 140,000 industrial workers, the coal strike as yet has been the cause of a much smaller displacement of industrial workers than is generally supposed. Including furnace employes in eastern Pennsylvania, brick makers in and near the Hudson valley, and a large number of coal handlers at tide water docks, not to exceed 20,000 men, or only one-seventh of the number of actual strikers, have been rendered idle. Oil, both crude and illuminating, has advanced in price.

Aside from the fuel scarcity, it may be truly said that every business prospect pleases. Fall jobbing, though necessarily not so active as earlier, is really better than anticipated. Reorders note difficulty of fulfillment, indicating lack of depressing stocks. Spring trade advices are better than usual at this date, and predictions as to the coming holiday business are optimistic.

Business failures in the United States for the week ending Thursday October 9 number 170 as against 183 in this week last year.

COLOMBIAN GOVERNMENT.

Insists on Its Right to Use Panama Railroad for Transfer of Troops.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The Colombian government, on complaint of General Salazar, in command of its forces on the Isthmus, has remonstrated with the United States minister at Bogota respecting Admiral Casey's refusal to allow troops and munitions of war to cross the isthmus. The Colombian government said it did not see how it could suppress the rebellion if it were not allowed to move troops freely in its own territory.

The Colombian government has been assured in a courteous manner that the United States government has no intention of trenching on Colombian sovereignty, which it has guaranteed by special treaty provision. Admiral Casey was informed that what he had done was still approved, but was reminded that he must avoid any infringement of Colombian sovereignty unless he was positively obliged to do so to protect the railroad.

GOVERNOR ODELL REBUKES BAER.

Culmination of a Warm Colloquy With the President of the Erie Railroad.

GOVERNOR'S PROPOSITION.

That Coal Operators Give Miners' an Increase of Five Cents Per Ton--Baer Said Answer Might Be Given, But Later Refused Terms.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—"What do you mean by politicians? I want you and all the other operators to understand that I am the Governor of New York, the chosen representative of seven million people, and that I am here in this matter solely in that capacity and to relieve if possible an intolerable situation. And what is more I intend to use every power at my command to do it."

Governor Odell made this statement to-day to President Baer, of the Reading railroad, in the presence of United States Senators Platt of New York and Quay and Penrose of Pennsylvania. It was the culmination of a rather heated interview in the office of Senator Platt and the result of the first meeting between Governor Odell and President Baer.

Mr. Baer was not in the best humor when accompanied by E. B. Thomas, chairman of the board of directors of the Erie railroad, he entered Senator Platt's office. The conference was begun by a statement made by Senator Penrose that the situation was becoming so serious that some solution must be found at once. He said that the operators should incline to some concessions toward a settlement.

"If you mean by that," said President Baer, "that we are to recognize the existence of a labor union, I tell you right now that the operators will consider no such proposition."

Governor Odell was on his feet in an instant. Holding a half burnt cigar in his hand and white with excitement, he said:

"Are we to understand that no kind of a conciliatory proposition will receive consideration at the hands of the operators?"

"I did not say that," answered Mr. Baer, "but I do say, and I reiterate it, that we will not accept political advice or allow the interference of politicians in this, our affair."

Then it was that Governor Odell made the statement attributed to him at the beginning of this article.

Baer Begs Pardon.

President Baer, evidently appreciating that he had gone too far, bowed to Governor Odell and said:

"Governor, I beg your pardon. No personal affront was intended, and we will listen to any suggestion you may have to make; but again I repeat that we must refuse to recognize the union as represented by Mr. Mitchell."

"I believe," said the Governor, "that your position from a public view is absolutely untenable. If coal operators, railroad men and other business men can combine for mutual profit and protection, there is no reason why laboring men should not."

A Direct Proposition.

"What is the proposition," said Mr. Baer coldly.

"Just this," said Governor Odell. "I am sure that the labor organization of which Mr. Mitchell is head desires him to be fair with the general public. If the operators will consent to give the men five cents a ton increase I will personally present it to the miners, and I believe they will accept it. It is a fair proposition."

"Does this mean, Governor Odell, that we are to recognize the miners union?" Mr. Baer asked.

"It certainly does" answered Governor Odell quickly; "and there is no reason why you should not."

Mr. Baer and Mr. Thomas rose to go, Mr. Thomas remarking that the matter would be presented to the other operators, and that an early answer would be forthcoming. Mr. Baer said:

May Answer Tuesday.

"We are to meet a committee of the manufacturers association on Tuesday and we may have an answer then."

The conference broke up, Mr. Baer and Mr. Thomas withdrawing. Senators Platt, Penrose and Quay talked over the matter for a short time and then they, too, separated, the two Pennsylvanians announcing that they would go back to Harrisburg and discuss the situation with Governor Stone.

Governor Odell was not in a talking mood when he left the conference. He went directly to the Fifth Avenue hotel and during most of the afternoon received callers. Mayor Low, Anson G. McCook, Edward Lauterbach, Congressmen Lessler and Littauer and Senator Platt were among his callers. To one of these the Governor said:

The Governor's Reply.

"The coal operators may postpone this matter until Tuesday, but I do not propose to postpone it. They are not acting fairly towards the people. I believe I shall find some remedy."

Operators Refused Consideration.

About 5 o'clock John Mitchell, accompanied by L. N. Hammerling, of Wilkesbarre, called and had a long conference. While this was going on a dispatch announcing that the operators refused to consider the terms offered by the Governor was received.

When the conference was over Governor Odell refused to say what had occurred, and Mr. Mitchell was equally reticent. It is believed, however, that Governor Odell presented his proposition of the settlement to the leader of the miners' union and that Mr. Mitchell said he would present it to the district presidents in the hope it would be accepted.

Governor Odell said: "Mr. Mitchell was eminently fair and showed every disposition to adjust the serious situation."

There is nothing to justify the assertion that negotiations will be resumed next Tuesday. As one of the coal presidents put it, "the incident is closed."

"The publicists," said this gentleman, "made a number of suggestions, all of which we turned down. These included a ten per cent. increase in pay, a decrease of working hours and recognition of the union, as well as a number of other propositions which we regard as equally undebatable. In fact we found it impossible to negotiate with them, and said so."

J. P. Morgan, who conferred with several of the operators during the day would not discuss the latest developments but it is known that he has not swerved from his purpose not to become a party to the controversy.

The Mine Operators.

WILKESBARRE, PA., Oct. 10.—The operators will make another determined effort to start up additional collieries next Monday and in case the militia cannot furnish the necessary protection for the men who want to go to work, and their families, a number of local operators will petition the Governor as to the advisability of calling on the President for Federal troops.

GRAND ARMY CLOSED ITS ENCAMPMENT.

San Francisco Chosen as the Next Place of Meeting—Resolutions Adopted. Closing Exercises.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—The Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic for 1902 came to a close today, although a few social gatherings may assemble to-morrow. San Francisco was chosen as the next place of meeting and the election of officers, began yesterday, was completed.

During the day the committee on legislation presented its report. The report was devoted especially to the committee's efforts to secure a modification of the civil service laws in the interest of veterans, which it was stated Congress had failed to concede. The committee find that the President is in hearty accord with the effort to secure a broader recognition of the claims of the soldiers, and "in marked contrast to the attitude of Congress."

Considerable time was devoted to a proposition to eliminate from the regulations of the order the provision against the admission to auxiliary bodies of those who have borne arms against the Union. The suggestion was made by some of the Southern delegates who advocated the organization of a citizens corps in connection with the Grand Army. No action was taken.

Resolutions were adopted by the encampment having in view liberal treatment of veterans in the matter of public office and pensions. Kindred bodies to the parent organization also brought their several conventions to a close, the sons of veterans, womans relief corps and other bodies choosing officers for the ensuing year.

A Split in the Organization.

The Union Veterans' Union had a decidedly lively day and the final result was a split in the organization. The first row was over a question of eligibility to membership. A resolution was adopted that let down the bars too much to suit some of the State delegations with a large membership in the order. This caused ill feeling. Later, the friction in the Union developed rapidly in consequence of a committee of the order which had been investigating the character and conduct of Commander-in-Chief Dyrenforth, adopting a report recommending the suspension of the commander-in-chief. General Dyrenforth was presiding over the convention when the committee endeavored to report. He refused to recognize it or to surrender his office to the next ranking officer of the order. Turbulent scenes followed, until finally a large portion of the organization withdrew, and those remaining re-elected General Dyrenforth, the seceders taking steps to form a new union.

HORRIBLE BUTCHERY AT HOMESTEAD, PA.

Charles Cawley, Believed to Be Insane, Killed His Mother and One Sister and Seriously Injured Others.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 10.—While laboring under mental aberration, the result of the strain of perfecting an appliance for patents on an air-brake, which are pending in Washington, D. C., Charles Cawley, a 17-year-old boy of Homestead, Pa., early to-day killed his mother and one sister, and seriously injured four other children. He also tried to kill his two older brothers, but was detected, overpowered and turned over to the police. The weapon used was an axe, with which he crushed and hacked his victims beyond recognition.

Some time about 3 o'clock this morning Charles quietly arose and dressing himself, but not putting on his shoes, crept down to the cellar and secured an axe. Coming up stairs, he went into his mother's room, where the victims were all sleeping. After turning up the light the maniac approached his mother's bedside, swung the axe high in the air and brought it down with such force that the skull was crushed. The mother evidently never knew what struck her, but the crazed son, thinking that his first blow did not do its work, pounded the dead mother's head almost to a jelly.

Belle, the oldest daughter, slept throughout the time. The dull sound of the axe on her mother's head did not arouse her. Charles hurried to her side of the bed and struck her with the axe; it is thought that the first blow slipped and awoke the girl, but only for a second. She did not have time to scream, for the next blow killed her.

The fiend then turned to the smaller children and struck each one over the head with the bloody weapon.

Believing that he had destroyed them all, he started for his brother's room, but James, the eldest, had been awakened by the groans in his mother's room, and as Charles entered he seized a heavy rocking-chair and after a hard struggle overpowered him and turned him over to the police. On the way to the station he fought furiously but after being placed in a cell he calmed down and did not seem to realize what he had done.

Charles Cawley is now confined in the county jail here. He denies emphatically that he committed the deed. He tells a fairly connected story, in which he reiterates his innocence. He says he was awakened at an early hour by sounds on the first floor and went down stairs to investigate. Returning up stairs he states he found his sister lying across the bed covered with blood and fled to give the alarm.

The five other members of the family injured are reported tonight as having a fair chance of recovery.

LATER.—Anna, the 4-year-old sister of Cawley, died to-night at the Southside hospital. It is reported that the other three injured will probably die before morning.

After a thorough examination by the coroner it was reported that the young man's story of robbery has been disproven, and that Cawley did the deed in a fit of insanity.

FOUND DEAD IN THEIR HOME.

Mrs. Henry Haubens and Her Two Sons. The Work of the Mother.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

OMAHA, NEBR., Oct. 10.—Mrs. Henry Haubens and her two sons, aged ten and twelve, were found dead in their home here to-day. The windows were closed, the keyholes plugged and the gas turned on. The police say the work was evidently that of the mother.

Mrs. Haubens had been in ill health and had become despondent, and it is thought she was temporarily insane when the act was committed. Mr. Haubens, who is vice president of a local brewing company, is out of the city. The Haubens family is one of the most prominent in the city.

WANT FEDERAL INTERFERENCE.

Coal Operators Demand That the Government Proceed Against the Miners.

THROUGH THE U. S. COURTS.

Letter Sent to President Roosevelt by David Wilcox, Vice President and Counsel of the Delaware and Hudson Railroad.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—David Wilcox, vice president and counsel for the Delaware and Hudson Railroad Company, has sent to President Roosevelt a letter demanding that the Federal government proceed against the miners' organization in the courts, on the ground that it is a conspiracy to prevent interstate commerce. Mr. Wilcox, it is said on authority, represents all the coal operators in this action, and was selected as their spokesman.

The letter was made public in this city together with a letter written several months ago to the President along the same lines. The letter says that the United Mine Workers is an illegal organization and that the writer desires to submit some considerations which seem to establish that the national government has power to take action against the union, under the Sherman anti trust act. Mr. Wilcox says the question is whether the mine workers' combination constitutes a restraint upon interstate commerce. Mr. Wilcox says:

"The coal of the country is the most important subject of its interstate commerce. The mine workers' association consists of a combination of persons employed in the production of coal in many States of the Union. Its object and effect are to control the terms upon which this subject of interstate commerce may be produced at all, either for State or interstate shipments. Its direct and necessary effect is that no coal shall be shipped anywhere within the country unless it so permits. This combination, therefore, not merely restrains, but destroys interstate commerce by preventing the existence of the subject matter of such commerce. As the result of the mine workers' organization, this interstate commerce of this corporation (the Delaware and Hudson Company) has been for the time being in great part destroyed."

Mr. Wilcox quotes certain decisions in support of his view and concludes, "that a suit would lie against the members of the United Mine Workers' Association, as a combination in restraint of interstate commerce, and that a preliminary injunction should be granted and enforced by all the power of the national government. This course would destroy the illegal combination to which the present strike is due. The Delaware and Hudson Company, therefore, most earnestly request that proper action be taken under the aforesaid statute."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—President Roosevelt has received the communication from David Wilcox, of the Delaware and Hudson R. R. Co. and has referred it, together with the former one of which Mr. Wilcox speaks, to the attorney general.

CLYDE STEAMERS COLLISION.

Officials of the Company Investigating the Disaster at Charleston.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Oct. 10.—Chief Engineer Sheldon and senior Captain Pennington, of the Clyde Steamship Company, arrived here to-night, having been detailed to make an examination of the stranded steamer Apache, which was so badly damaged in a collision with the Iroquois in the harbor Thursday morning that the ship had to be run aground at Cummiug's Point to prevent her sinking. The Clyde representatives, in company with an agent of the New York Underwriters Association, will make an examination of the wreck of the ship to-morrow to get at the monetary loss sustained and ascertain whether or not the ship can be floated without the assistance of a wrecking vessel. Other steamers have taken the place of the injured ship, and no further delays will be occasioned by the accident.

RAILWAYS CRIPPLED.

Depending Largely Upon Refuse Coal and Scrap Wood for Fuel.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NORFOLK, VA., October 10.—The freight traffic of the Seaboard Air Line is almost crippled by the scarcity of coal. To-day the coal that was aboard freight engines was removed to passenger engines and only enough was secured to run the south bound train from Norfolk to-night. The line's shops are busy changing engines to wood burners.

The combined street railway system of Tidewater, Va., is depending largely upon refuse coal and scrap wood from the large mills for fuel, and have chartered barges and tugs to gather the same. Their shut-down would put Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News, Hampton, Berkley and adjoining suburbs in darkness and stop cars and ferries. The Norfolk tug boat owners met to-night and raised charges on account of the coal scarcity.

NEW ORLEANS STRIKE SITUATION UNCHANGED.

No Attempt Made to Run Cars—Strikers Still Defiant—A Proposition Submitted by the Company.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 10.—The strike situation to-night showed no material change from yesterday. A heavy rain this morning tended to decrease the crowds of strikers massed on Canal street in the vicinity of the barn, but when it cleared up in the afternoon they resumed their old defiant attitude, waiting for the first attempt to run out a passenger car. None was run except mail cars.

This morning Governor Heard and Mayor Capdevielle met twenty members of the executive committee of the car men and remained in conference with the men over an hour. The Governor received a complete statement of their side of the case and it is understood urged upon them the necessity of settling the controversy amicably. He warned them to desist from violence and said that if necessary every company of militia in the State would be brought here to preserve order.

While no official statement was given out, the Governor is understood to have presented to them an offer of the New Orleans Railway Company of ten hours and twenty cents. The committee retired to lay it before a meeting of the Union, which was called for 8 o'clock to-night. A committee from the Union then went around to all the barns, calling the men into the meeting. At the Canal street barn, where the great majority of them were assembled, they were informed of the nature of the proposition and its announcement was greeted with loud negative shouts.

About ninety per cent. of the local militiamen have been gathered in the armories and in case they are needed to-morrow they will be ready at a moment's notice.

The trial of the sixteen strikers called to day for interfering with the mails was continued until Monday.
